August 2022

The reconstructed front wall and full length porch, partially finished, on the house purchased for the National Alliance in March. The temporary power on the right had just been installed in time to take this photo on 31 August — in time for inclusion in this issue of the BULLETIN.

Infrastructure Progress

With limited staff at our National Office, and no volunteer members arriving to pitch in during August, we were still able to make good progress on our two building projects, and the purchasing of needed construction materials. We finally got temporary electricity run to the house we are rehabbing. Until now we've been using a gas-operated generator to supply power for our tools. Cutting trees, mowing, weed-eating, and bush-hogging almost every day has our new parcels looking very sharp now compared to when purchased. We have even helped a couple of elderly neighbors with some maintenance work they needed to have done; it helps the Alliance to keep building good relations with them. One of them donated a very nice barbeque grill to us. Some members have pledged to visit during September and October to pitch in with projects. We will have no problem with keeping them busy.

The long front porch roof on the house featured in the May BULLETIN has already been torn off; we have nearly replaced it this month (see image) as well as replacing much of the front wall (including windows and front door) that suffered significant water damage during the previous 20 years during which the property had been abandoned. With the high costs of new construction, this house was definitely worth saving. Neighbors are pleased that what had gradually become an overgrown eyesore is now such a welcome community showplace.

Recruiting New Members

In Kevin Strom's American Dissident Voices broadcast of 27 August, titled "William Pierce and Our Future Society," he announced a campaign to celebrate Dr. Pierce's 9/11 birthday — what would be his 89th. The Alliance's primary outreach for recruiting, by necessity now, is by way of the Internet. Jews have used every trick in their book of treachery to prevent us from reaching our people; Google's and other "big tech" Jews and their collaborators use their censorious algorithms to skew searches for our Web sites, as Kevin explains:

> Now only about one one-hundredth of 1% of our traffic comes from search engines. Thanks, Jews. Only about 1% of our traffic comes from social media — that used to be about five times as high, but the censors have managed to mark our links as "unsafe" or in some cases outright ban them. The vast majority of our traffic is just direct to our site — and getting a big audience that way is quite an accomplishment! Thank you to all of you out there spreading the word about us via word of mouth, email, putting out National Alliance fliers, and via social media despite the roadblocks that have put in our path.

The best recruiters of new members into our organization should be current members. Kevin announced the William L. Pierce Memorial Literature Distribution, to take place in the week before, beginning on the three-day Labor Day weekend, and the week after 11 September:

> During those two weeks, let's get the words of William Pierce — and the name of the National Alliance — into the hands of a hundred thousand new people. I want every single one of you who hears my words to go to natall.com/fliers and print out one of our William Pierce fliers — and blanket your county, town, and neighborhood with them. You can choose from the deeply important "The Roots of Civilization," the eye-opening "Why Conservatives Can't Win," the shocking "Day of Infamy," and the ultimate eye-opener for free-thinking Whites "Why They Want to Disarm You." You can also get these printed and folded very cheaply in bulk at almost any local print shop. You can put them under windshield wipers on public streets. Put them inside weighted plastic bags and toss them onto driveways. Hand them out person to person. Hang them on doorknobs in purpose-made plastic bags. Put them on public bulletin boards. And a thousand other ways to be creative and spread the words of William Luther Pierce — the most life-changing words any of our people will ever read...

Some ADV listeners and some of our members who listened to that broadcast will follow the suggestions in this announcement; unfortunately, many will not, expecting others to. One recent member, M.C. in northern California, will participate in the campaign. In a recent letter to our National Office he wrote of his frustration with recruiting:

> I've been trying really hard to recruit people, but I just can't believe how difficult it is. I know a few people who say they agree wholeheartedly with our mission, and when I discuss specific issues with them they agree with me on almost everything I say, but they simply won't join our Alliance or even do anything positive for our race at all. It is very disheartening, and if I wasn't already steeled by life and my reading of Nietzsche, it might be enough to make me lose hope...

M.C. is relatively new to the Alliance, so he's still finding his legs, learning by experience. What he writes reminds us of what Dr. Pierce learned more than 50 years ago when he realized that he was expecting others to think idealistically like him, and react responsibly as he was doing, once introduced to the vital truths he was telling them. Though they were considered by him to be racially conscious, and though they seemingly agreed with him, they lacked the moral courage to speak the truth about our plight openly or do anything about it. We've all experienced this frustration. Read "The Trouble With People" on National Vanguard or listen to Dr. Pierce on track 18, volume 7 of our Power of Truth CD series.

> I'll never give up, of course — I'll fight this fight if I'm the last one fighting in the world — but I have to admit that I'm surprised at just how worthless even so-called racially conscious people can be. I've tried to recruit three men who I considered to be good candidates, but to no avail....

A wiser recruiting path M.C. might want to follow is to not expect so much from friends, relatives, and others in his circles, but concentrate more on helping to reach some of those 100,000 new people this month Kevin suggested with our free fliers, and then deal with those who will then visit our sites as a result — who will begin reading Pierce, Douglas Mercer, Wolf Stoner, Andrew Hamilton, David Sims and others who are giving them what they need — and who then reach out to us. We will build the Alliance mainly with those alienated but perceptive Whites who are looking for solutions. If just one-tenth of 1% of 100,000 Whites joined with us, that's 100 new Alliance members. That doesn't sound like many, but it is. M.C. is now in touch with other trusted and motivated members in northern California, and to his credit his girlfriend has joined the Alliance. If every member recruits one new member like M.C. has done, we will double our membership. That will lead to many more good things happening for us. We've done it before with Alliance-building — and will do it again.

Cosmotheist Books

Two new books, one from prolific non-fiction author and editor, Dr. Thomas Dalton, were added to our online bookstore this month. Last year we offered his Pan-Judah! — Political Cartoons of Der Stürmer, 1925 - 1945 in a large format hardback for $85, and now have a stock of his new, August 2022 P*an Judah! volume two*, with 200 additional Der Stürmer cartoons in a paperback edition for $38. The mission of much-hated (by our enemies) publisher Julius Streicher's small weekly German newspaper, Der Stürmer, was straightforward: to warn the German people about the threats posed by foreign and domestic Jews. The dangers were very real, and Streicher's stories gave a blunt and direct account of them. A key feature of Der Stürmer was its political cartoons. The drawings of lead cartoonist, 'Fips' Rup-precht, became the signature feature of the newspaper, and grew to represent the broader German struggle against Jewry. Streicher, though not a member of the National Socialist party nor the German military, was hanged by the Allies after the Nuremberg show trials. He and the other nine National Socialist leaders who were hanged then were and still are compared by Jews with the ten sons of Haman hanged in the Jews' favorite Torah story, the Book of Esther, celebrated during the Jews' festival of Purim. Adolf Hitler is often compared by Jews to Haman. Streicher's words just before the noose was placed around his neck were "Purim Fest 1946." He knew the significance.

Unmasking Anne Frank: Her Famous Diary Exposed as a Literary Fraud is another August 2022 book, this one by Japanese researcher Ikuo Suzuki. He deconstructs Frank's famous diary, exposing the many issues lying just below the surface. In the process, he unmasks the truth: that the notorious diary was likely written by a middle-aged Jewish man who worked in conjunction with Anne's father, Otto, to foist upon the public a deceptive and highly misleading story of a young teenage girl who perished in a German camp. Suzuki presents a thorough, detailed, and highly readable critique of the global bestseller that is Anne Frank's Diary. Far and away the best critical analysis of the famous diary, this book fills a badly needed gap in contemporary revisionist literature and should be in Alliance members' personal collections as ammunition for debunking this major plank of the Jews' Holocaust lie.

Dr. Pierce's last book, Who We Are: a Series of Articles on the History of the White Race, was a compilation of his early articles beginning in the 1970s and has been out of print for ten years. Science has advanced greatly in the past 45 or so years, and Dr. Pierce's viewpoint evolved significantly, so the book is in need of updating and revision, but it is such an outstanding history of our race, filled with Dr. Pierce's deep insights, that we are committed to republishing it.

Our Cosmotheist Church bookstore now has eight full sets of C.S. Forester's Hornblower Saga seafaring adventure series, 11 volumes in all, written back in the late 1930s. Boys young and old have enjoyed these healthy-minded books for more than 80 years now. We are making a special offer of $70 for the complete set, plus $10 postage and handling.

Correspondence

Dear Will, Greetings from JOG's resort in California. I hope this missive finds all going well in your neck of the woods. Thanks for the NA BULLETINs. I have been receiving them, albeit a little late. I have not yet received the July issue. I am sure the delay is due to my censor, but, then again, this country has dropped down to Third World status. As to my move to Leavenworth, I was denied access, or I should say transfer to the program. The original excuse was supposed to be due to lack of bed space, but three other prisoners who had applied after me were approved within three weeks of my denial. I no longer care as I am down to twenty months and two weeks for eligibility to a halfway house — believe me, that day cannot come soon enough.

The photos of the National Alliance property are awe-inspiring. I am surprised there isn't a flood of NA members moving to the area and setting up their own self-sufficient homesteads. The way things are going out there, moving onto some acreage with like-minded people around you to network with is going to be imperative for our very survival. You have done one hell of a job of restoring Dr. Pierce's dream after Erich Gliebe almost destroyed it. I thank you and salute you for your hard work and sacrifice. Take care, Kinsman, and stay safe. — Richard Scutari, California

Chairman Williams responds: Your thanks are highly valued, Richard. I'm sorry to learn that your jailers have denied your move to better conditions at Leavenworth after building up your hopes. Our members should know that you have been an honorary Alliance member for most of the 33 years you've been imprisoned, much of that time in solitary confinement. That is longer than a good number of recent members have been alive. You have been an inspiration to many of us, having been offered early release several times if only you would "tell all" about your time in The Order — choosing instead to keep your silence. I encourage some who receive this BULLETIN to write to Richard and bring a little light to his day: Richard Scutari #34840-080; Federal Correctional Institution, Unit C-1; POB 9 Mendota, CA 93640

Hello, Will! I was glad to see the photos of the advanced stage of the library's construction. The work that you do is of primary importance. In the time when everyone seems to be caught in the Web, you continue real-life activities. It is the right path. The Internet is only a helping tool, not a substitute for real life. I regularly listen to [Dr. Pierce's (WLP's)] radio programs. His ideas perfectly resonate with me. Sometimes it even happens that I find that WLP had already said before what I supposed to be my own ideas. This fact only confirms the validity of those ideas. The same return from the same input, by different people in different circumstances, is confirmation that the algorithm is correct.

Yes, WLP definitely is the greatest White man of the second half of the last century; no doubts about it. Those who disagree with that are either the enemies of the White race or deluded, shallow creatures unable to do logical objective analysis. I was never the kind of person who liked to follow and worship anyone. My acknowledgement of WLP is the product of logical conclusions based on voluminous reading into the question (I started to read everything that I encountered about Western nationalist organizations in 1995; articles, books, brochures; most of them were from Soviet publishers and utterly hostile to our cause but they provided an introduction into the matter that I needed). I have accumulated substantial knowledge in this field — especially since 2011 when broadband Internet became available and I was able to watch, listen, and read first-hand materials on National Socialist and race-based movements. Therefore, my adherence to WLP's ideas isn't accidental. I have studied this matter in depth and came to the only logical conclusion. WLP was able to generate the most coherent, workable long-term vision. He was able to discard all American "holy cows" (the Constitution, "founding fathers," "Jesus Christ") and to formulate the basic unifying racial principles for all White people in the entire world. I would even say that WLP is the main redeeming figure for the whole den of vipers that comprise the modern USA. American society as a whole could be regarded as a completely good-for-nothing crowd if not for WLP and the few men around him. It so happens among humans that the best people emerge in the most depraved societies as a cure. The whole White race needs this cure now. Best regards, — Wolf Stoner, Russia

Chairman Williams responds: Our Russian Alliance member never ceases to amaze me with his insights about America, even with English not being his first language. He sent us a 10,200 word essay this month that took me the better part of a couple of days to read through three times to slightly copy edit. It is now on National Vanguard as "Four Wars That We Lost" and is being presented in four parts — "we" being our White race. Alliance members are encouraged to read this essay as well as the comments under each part.

To NA: I'm a 35-year-old White male from Quebec. What I've been reading here on National

Vanguard has had a profound effect on me. I am joining your National Alliance. I'm willing to physically move to Tennessee. Ultimately I have that intention, but this will take more time of course. Regards, — Y.G., Canada (via National Vanguard)

Dear family, Racial greetings. I hope this letter finds you all in abundant health. Enclosed you will find $20 (in fancy Jewish paper) for one Call of the Blood music CD. Also enclosed find a gold bar. I believe it is in the best interest of our White nation that we turn our back on fancy Jewish paper as our medium of exchange. Therefore my monthly contributions will be in physical gold... I enjoy listening to the 24-hour broadcast on your Web site. Ever in Unity, — P.T., Florida

Chairman Williams responds: We are pleased that you enjoy our 24/7 radio network, and thank you for becoming a financial supporter of our Alliance. I was able to deposit the $20 Federal Reserve Note you sent into our bank account. However, we're having a problem with the 1/4 grain of gold you've been sending. I did the math: There are 15.43 grains in a gram, times four for a quarter-grain bar. So, after 61.72 months you will have sent us one gram of gold. That's nearly five years and two months for one gram of gold. At today's rate a gram of gold is worth roughly $56, so that is less than $1 per month. There's no telling what a gram of gold will be worth 62 months from now, but, since there are 28.3495 grams in an ounce, it will take 3,472 months, or 289 years at a quarter-grain per month, for all of those to add up to one ounce of gold. One ounce of gold today is currently worth $1,763, What it will be worth in 289 years is anyone's guess, but if you insist on sending gold, perhaps you can pay ahead in grams or half grams of gold rather than in quarter-grains. Otherwise, please just send $20 FRNs with manly White hero President Andrew Jackson's portrait (and, by the way, hoard those while you can, and refuse to accept or use lying Joe Biden's twenties with abolitionist Harriet Tubman's ugly face on them). Other members and supporters pay their pledges with cryptocurrency, or mail checks or money orders, so we can deposit them in our business account. You might be able to buy a house today with gold, but not groceries or fuel for your car. Maybe with silver, but not gold.

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Moments of Personal Enlightenment; Some Good, Some Not

To the National Alliance: Here in New Jersey, the race-mixing is insane and the miscegenation passed criticality long ago. My wife and I enjoy getting most of our food from farmer's markets and co-ops. Every time I have been to one, I see that at least one third of the couples of child-bearing age are of mixed race, usually with the female being the White one. As a White man, this enrages and demoralizes me immensely. Worse still is that it seems that among younger White men, they are more likely to be single or homos than to be dating at all — let alone dating a White woman. We recently took a road trip to the Smoky Mountains (I should have checked before, because it wasn't until after we had passed through that I realized how close we had come to Mountain City; I would have loved to stop by and meet everyone and do some work). When we passed through the southwestern parts of Virginia and through Tennessee along 81, I was immediately struck by how drastically and beautifully this trend had reversed. Here White couples with multiple young White children were the norm. The single White women were pretty and modestly flirty without the sluttish behavior and bimbo styles I see up north. Not one of them was with a non-White male. The single White men were strong and had a noble bearing and I am sure they will one day get with one of those Tennessee belles. Not one matched the caricature of the southern male the media have fed us. Only one was with a non-White woman, a Latina. He fit closest to the media stereotype of those I had seen on my entire trip.

It is no coincidence that everyone was also incredibly nice. My step-son gets car sick occasionally on longer hauls. Up north, people have no patience for a White teenager, let alone a kind word or deed when he's struggling. Down there, folk were not only kind and patient, but offered help, even for something as simple as getting car sick. I am sure that a largely racially homogeneous society is a society with higher trust and social support. I say all this more to point out that the Jews' race-mixing advertising could not exist in a vacuum. Places like New Jersey have enabled it and forced it upon the rest. Places like New York and California — where we Aryans are already a minority — downright revel in it like boars in a wallow, since the lower races' men slaver after our women. That trip was very healing and remotivating for me. Coming back to the hell up north was a downer, but I feel like I have some direction again. Next time I will be sure to make visiting the land to help out a priority. — T.S., New Jersey (on our whitebiocentrism.com forum)

My response: There certainly are still many good Whites in parts of New Jersey, T.J., but adverse racial and societal trends there are increasing as you describe and spreading to other regions. The conditions and the people down here along the I-81 corridor in southwest Virginia and Tennessee are as you say: pleasant for you compared to back home. Most Whites adapt to change and to their surroundings.

I grew up in Raleigh, North Carolina, which was much like Upper East Tennessee is now — mostly White. In the White Raleigh that I knew and loved the Blacks and Coloreds were segregated in their own section of town, and social mixing of the races was negligible. Lana and I went on a much needed three-day vacation to the coast at the end of August, and my cousin in Raleigh invited us to meet there for lunch since it is on the way. I hadn't been there in years and hardly recognized the town I'd grown up in in the 1950s and '60s when the population was barely over 50,000 — now it's approaching 500,000, sprawling and with ridiculously heavy traffic, trying to catch up with Atlanta or Charlotte. North Carolina's capital city is also Wake County's seat of government — one of several in the state now designated "sanctuary counties," meaning invasive non-White aliens, even criminals, are not turned over to the feds by local law enforcement for deportation. Raleigh's population is now 57% White, with Blacks, now entirely desegregated, at nearly 30%. Some, like the many northerners who have relocated to Raleigh from their ruined cities, may think racially diverse Raleigh is charming, but the White community I enjoyed as a boy is long gone.

The chain restaurant my cousin chose as the place for us to meet in West Raleigh, near where our families had lived, is typical, or so he said. But after arriving, when I went to wash up I was utterly consternated to see no mens' and womens' separate facilities, but two unisex restrooms! That is when I realized I was in "progressive" non-binary Raleigh (read: no male, no female), with the changes being made ostensibly to accommodate transgender freaks. We don't have unisex restrooms in Johnson County, Tennessee, but my cousin tells me they are now commonplace in Raleigh — the once charming "red" city that is now thoroughly "blue."

Another trend I've noticed is that boys and girls are now taught that they are not to use the singular pronouns he or she to describe a fellow human, but should instead use the plural, "gender neutral" they and them. To violate this fashionable new language trend is to risk being called "transphobic" by the out-of-their-closets freaks: queers, transgenders, and transsexuals (all of whom are ineligible for membership in the National Alliance — we like it that way; they have their communities, we have ours). A member who is an IT (information technology) specialist tells me he is mandated by his company to only use plural pronouns when solving customers' computer issues by telephone. That indicates how pervasive this practice has become. Perhaps next his company will require that he must wear a mask while on the phone.

The Alliance is not "right-wing" or conservative — but we do enjoy conserving the traditions and standards of our normal White past, including the standards of our language and the rules of proper grammar. "When Clara walks to the market, she, not they, buys her, not their, favorite ice cream."

Dr. Pierce was a stickler for proper grammar and would correct me when I misused a word, like media, which is the plural of medium. "Will, media are, not media is..." I always appreciated it when he would gently correct my speech. For those who want a good book, especially for home-schooling the next generation, I recommend John Warriner's English Grammar and Composition, but try to find an old edition from the 1950s or early 1960s to avoid Politically Correct language trends. It is a valuable tool for using and teaching the English language. W. W. W.
